

One Europe,
many laws.

Environmental Compliance Service

Internationally operating companies must fulfil their take-back obligations in accordance with the legislation in force in the respective country. One Europe, many laws. We keep the overview for you!

A legally compliant approach is complex and requires extensive know-how in practice. Numerous legal texts in many different languages do exist, together with individual regulations and over 200 different take-back systems. In addition, there is no unified Europe-wide reporting and registration system.

Therefore, there is a high risk of unintentional breaches of the law and associated sanctions for the obligated parties.

We provide competent support in the implementation of your legal obligations in all EU countries as well as Norway and Switzerland.

We take over for you:

■ Analysis

The analysis and evaluation of the obligations based on your data provided

■ Selection

The selection of the appropriate country licensing and take-back system based on your quantities placed on the market, including notification, registration and annual updates

■ Handling

The handling of the entire contract management and the corresponding correspondence with the foreign systems

■ Implementation

The implementation of the legally required, timely quantity reports and further reporting

■ Identification

The identification of open issues and developing measures to maintain your compliance

Your advantage

You have only one service provider for up to 30 countries in Europe and you do not need to worry about capacities, expertise, linguistic complications or misinterpretations. Save a lot of time for your core business!
